William hotel before the marshals arrived, taking advantage, it is believed, of the opportunity afforded in the few minutes his door was left unwatched while the guard was being changed. It was found that he had successfully passed the men in the corridors and had even stopped at the desk to secure his mail before leaving.

Charles G. Ruddy, chief of the Burns bureau, was involved in the alleged jury tampering charge, was called into the grand jury room this afternoon. He was entered, according to Assistant District Attorney Burkinshaw, as admitted that he had furnished detailed reports of the activities of his men to both Day and Clark.

Trace Telephone Call.

Another mysterious element was injected into the investigation today when Mark B. Thompson, personal counsel for Fall in the conspiracy trial, was called before the grand jury. He was quizzed on the nature of a telephone call traced from his room to Daniel Jackson, a special assistant attorney general.

According to Burkinshaw, Thompson called Jackson last week to inquire about another assistant attorney general. The person inquired about, Burkinshaw continued, was the subject of an alias pass report seized among the records of the Burns agents.

Thompson admitted that Jackson, before his appointment to the department of justice position, was a resident of El Paso, Tex., and at one time a law partner of Fall. Burkinshaw said that the telephone call to inquire about a man already under surveillance may be significant in view of the long statement issued by Fall yesterday denying that he or any of his family, friends or legal advisers knew that detectives were employed by the defense.

Connection is Established.

Through the statements of Eugene Blarney, who has acted as Sinclair's chauffeur in Washington during the progress of the conspiracy trial, the government established a definite connection between Sinclair and Day Burkinshaw asserted.

Blarney and Frank T. Hurley, head of an automobile sales agency, were taken before the grand jury this afternoon. Hurley reported to Burkinshaw that, about three weeks ago, Day telephoned from the Mayflower hotel to ask if the agency would furnish several automobiles and a chauffeur. Hurley said he declined to rent any automobiles and referred the query to Blarney who operates a private automobile renting business. Blarney was employed at the rate of $27 a day, including the use of his car, and since then acted as Sinclair's personal chauffeur. Yesterday, according to Blarney, Day paid him off with $371 in cash.

Changed Tags on Auto.

Blarney admitted that he changed the tags on his car, but asserted it was

TAFT IS PRAISED BY OIL TRIAL JUDGE FOR JURY SELECTION TALK

Washington, D. C., Nov. 3.—Justice Frederick L. Siddons of the District of Columbia Supreme court, who presided at the Teapot Dome conspiracy trial which was brought to a sudden end after investigations of jury tampering, congratulated Chief Justice Taft today when the latter urged the need of selecting intelligent jurors.

"You have brought us a wonderful message," Justice Siddons told the chief justice at the conclusion of the latter's speech before the national crime reduction conference. Taft's views were interpreted to be his reaction to the mistrial in the Fall-Sinclair case.

necessary in order to comply with police regulations governing automobiles used for every purpose. He also admitted having driven into Leroy place, where the Woodward home is located, but denied having taken Sinclair there.

Summons for William J. Burns, head of the Burns agency, and his son, William Sherman Burns, have been issued, according to Burkinshaw, who asserts they will be asked to tell the grand jury who employed their firm to shadow the Teapot Dome jurors.

Edward J. Kidwell, the juror whose alleged remark to a friend that he expected to come out of the Sinclair-Fall trial with "a car a block long," was partly responsible for the collapse of the trial, was called before the grand jury again this morning but remained only a few minutes.

Other members of the jury will be taken before the grand jury tomorrow morning. Several of the jurors assert they were aware that they were being shadowed.

Plans of government counsel to appear before Judge Siddons this morning to fix a date for the new trial of the conspiracy charges against Sinclair and Fall were deferred until tomorrow morning.

CLARK WELL KNOWN HERE.

Sheldon Clark, prominent in Chicago as a great sportsman, has been in New York and Washington for two weeks, according to a statement made last night by his wife, Mrs. Bonnie Carrington Clark, who was at their residence, 1877 North State street.

"Mr. Clark had no definite plans about his return," Mrs. Clark added. "That is all I can tell you about his whereabouts."

Joseph M. Cudahy of Lake Forest, who with Mr. Clark guides the destinies of the Sinclair Refining company in Chicago, said:

"I have had no recent contact with the office, and I know nothing of Commodore Clark's recent business matters."

Both men are directors in the Sinclair company—the only directors who are not residents of New York City—and maintain offices for themselves and a small force in the McCormick building, 521 South Michigan avenue. The company also has sales offices at 2540 West 32d street.

Noted As Yachtsman.

Mr. Clark's fame as a sportsman springs chiefly from his love of yachting. He has been three times commander of the Chicago Yacht club and as a yachtsman he became a boon companion of William Hyde Thompson. He was one of a small group of men who in 1915 first advanced the cause of Thompson for mayor.

Four years ago Mr. Clark himself was urged to run for mayor, but he declined and instead devoted himself to managing the primary campaign of Edward R. Lisle.

All kinds of sport had their fascination for Mr. Clark, and a year ago he became chairman of the athletic committee of the Chicago Athletic association. He was one of the two judges in the Dempsey-Tunney championship bout at Soldier's field.

Mr. Clark holds membership in many clubs, among them being the University, Saddle and Cycle, Onward, Racquet, Forty, Bob O'Leary and the Chicago, New York Yacht, and the Royal Automobile club of London.

JUDGE CONSIDERS GRANTING DECREE TO DEAD WOMAN

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 3.—Circuit Judge Charles Briggie today faces a unique question—whether to sign a divorce decree for a dead woman. The legal question is whether Lloyd Colmorn or W. Edward Sandige was the husband of Mrs. Marie Colmorn Sandige, who died Oct. 30. Both claim her estate—a few hundred dollars and some insurance.

Judge Briggie had indicated that he would grant Mrs. Colmorn a decree of divorce from Colmorn Sept. 24, but he has never signed the decree. Mrs. Colmorn married Sandige Oct. 24, just before undergoing an operation. When she died, Colmorn asked to have the divorce proceedings set aside.

HEARST SLOGAN AND BONDS MAY LOSE BIG BILL

'English-Speaking' Motto One Trouble.

A rift in the pleasant relationship between Mayor William Hale Thompson and William Randolph Hearst appears to be approaching.

This is one queer turn in the mayor's fight against King George III. It was slipped out yesterday by one of the mayor's intimates. He said it had been pointed out to the mayor that his close alliance with Hearst will embarrass him—if it has not already done so—in his fight against pro-British propaganda, and that the mayor feels there is a real base for such an opinion.

Two causes for the fear of the mayor's advisers are said to have been pointed out to him. One is the platform of the morning Hearst paper. This has been printed from day to day at the top of the editorial page under a title in large black letters, "The Hearst Papers Advocate Number 1 in this Hearst platform, its enunciation last Monday was:

"An agreement of English speaking peoples to preserve peace among themselves and promote the peace of the world."

Is He in English Speaking Union?

This proposed "agreement of English speaking peoples" sounds much like the name of that organization, the "English Speaking Union," against which the mayor has thrown bombs in both his crusades against himself and his advisers.

Another cause for concern by the mayor and his advisers is the name of one of the agencies of a $20,000,000 bond issue recently offered the public on various Hearst publications. The name of the seller, which is deemed detrimental to the mayor's war on pro-British propaganda, is the "Anglo London Paris Company." It is assumed, according to THE TRIBUNE'S informant, by friends of the mayor that this company has some relationship with the British, and that some of the Hearst bonds of this huge new issue, as well as some of Mr. Hearst's

PHONOGRAPH AND SILK UNDIEN, NEW RANSOM DEMANDED BY MOORS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Nov. 3.—In addition to the $125,000 ransom for the two nephews of President Gov. Theodore Roosevelt and their woman companions, who were kidnapped recently, the ferocious Arab bandit chief, Ben Nacour, wants a phonograph.

And that's not all. His ragged emissaries informed the French that his lordship wanted three dozen American law records, seven fancy leather harnesses and saddles for his milk white steed, seven white new burials for his immediate entourage, and couple of dozen silk and wool union suits.

The negotiations for the release of the prisoners are much like the bargaining in the bazaars of Casablanca or Fez, where nobody ever offers more than the cube root of the first figure named. Thus, although Gov. Steeg believes he will get his nephews back at half the price asked, it may take many months of bargaining before the deal is concluded.

That even if there is a difference many persons might confuse one for the other. Further, that many persons would think it funny, if not ridiculous, that the mayor should be fighting the English Speaking union night and day while supported in his fight morning, afternoon and night by newspapers whose first motto is "an agreement of the English speaking peoples."

Another cause for concern by the mayor and his advisers is the name of one of the agencies of a $20,000,000 bond issue recently offered the public on various Hearst publications. The name of the seller, which is deemed detrimental to the mayor's war on pro-British propaganda, is the "Anglo London Paris Company." It is assumed, according to THE TRIBUNE'S informant, by friends of the mayor that this company has some relationship with the British, and that some of the Hearst bonds of this huge new issue, as well as some of Mr. Hearst's earlier bond issues on his papers, may be offered to residents of the British Isles.

Anglo Bank Sells Bonds.

The Anglo London Paris company is a subsidiary of the Consolidated Securities company, which in turn is a subsidiary of the Anglo and London Paris National bank of San Francisco, according to bank directories. This bank succeeded the London-Paris-American bank, Limited, in 1901. The principal correspondent in London of the Anglo and London Paris National bank is Lazard Brothers & Co., Limited.

One of the principal charges of the mayor and his fighters against pro-British propaganda has been that the English are willing to spend money to get friendly suggestions in American texts, library books, and other publications. At least one of the mayor's friends is firmly convinced that if the public gets the impression, whether right or wrong, that British money has been or will be invested in Hearst newspapers—and the bonds are said to be on sale in England—they will begin laughing at the mayor's crusade and its potential political advantage will be lost, especially in the mayor's nation-wide "America First Foundation."

This friend is said to have advised the mayor to be careful in Washington on his flood control trip not to speak for the Boulder dam project, in which Mr. Hearst is said to be interested. Mr. Thompson tried to give Mr. Hearst a lift on this project several months ago in the national capital.

These pro-British symptoms in Mr. Hearst are said to be at the bottom of the mayor's tendency toward a break in the long time intimate Hearst-Big Bill relations.

NOTE TRUE BILLS AS POLICE HUNT EXTORTION GANGS

Complete Cases Against
3 Bands of Racketeers.

Cases of arson, bombings, slugging, window smashings and other crimes of labor terrorism were cleared up by the forces of State's Attorney William B. Crowe yesterday as they laid bare the activities of four separate bands of extortionists.

Five officials of one gang indicted during the day, the police last night were making leaders of the three other groups and were ordered to throw out all into cells. Assistant State's Attorney Charles J. Mueller, leading the twenty, announced that proof against these men was complete, and will be presented to the grand jury this morning on Monday.

Smoking gained this foothold in the city in the racketeers who in the guise of labor and trade organizers have been terrorizing business men, the prosecution prepared to branch out into the hundreds of other racketeers being hunted in the city.

Have Indictments Expected.
"We have broken through the crust of those which kept witnesses away," said Prosecutor Mueller. "From now on we plan to grind out indictments against these lawless gyps artists and their henchmen."

These groups whose officials face indictments are the Florist Designers' union, the Chicago Retail Sales and Fruit Stores union, and the United Shoe Repairers' union. The Florist Designers' union. The Florist Designers' union, who are charged with conspiracy to kill on complaint of William Blumovich, a candy dealer who refused to comply with demands of the association. They are Albert Rockman, John Hand, Max Goldsmith, Samuel Daly, who admitted being the "whole works" of the florist union—business manager, treasurer, organizer, bookkeeper, and what have you—was identified by four florists as having threatened them a short time before bricks were hurled through the windows of each of their shops.

Daly, who lives at 1510 Warren avenue, was held incommunicado at the detective bureau.

Daly's Accomplice Hunted.
His accomplice, described by the police as a huge, tough looking character who voiced most of the threats, is being sought. Daly first gave this man's name as Tom Ryan, and then declared he was Tom Henry.

Both Florist shopowners and employees were taken into Daly's union, which he said was his original idea. He ordered he had gone, sometimes with Henry, all over the city inducing florists and their helpers to join his union and had obtained 88 members at an initiation fee of $15 and fine of $5 a month. Except for what he paid the American Federation of Labor for the right to be affiliated with it, everything went into his pocket, Daly admitted. He also said he has been for many months on the pay roll of the sanitary district, sponsored by Trustee John Tooley, receiving $175 a month as a mosquito catcher. With winter his occupation has been changed to engineer, he told the prosecutors.

Denies Part in Vandalism.
Confronted by florist victims of window smashings, Daly admitted he had sought their memberships, but he denied responsibility for the vandalism. Both he and Henry will be indicted for conspiracy, Prosecutor Mueller asserted. Five florists in all laid their broken windows to Daly and Henry, the four who identified Daly being S. Lovich, 3316 South Halsted street; Harold Stengel, 6429 South Halsted street; Paul Bioma, 1861 North Clark street, and Mr. Adams of the Adams Flower shop, 1169 North State street.

The fifth, who did not appear at the state's attorney's office, is Arthur Cohen, 7821 South Halsted street. Two men named by the prosecutors as among the most notorious racketeers in the city, Jack Fox and Philip J. Cohen, officials of the Chicago Retail Food and Fruit Stores union, will be charged with arson, bombing and conspiracy, according to Prosecutor Mueller.

Fox was arrested at his home, 3923 West 19th street, and Prosecutor Walker placed a police guard at the home of Cohen at 318 South Austin boulevard. Fox will be questioned this morning at the prosecutor's office. Assistant State's Attorney Walter G. Walker, who investigated the activities of Fox and Cohen, told the two men had visited the fruit store of Sam Steinberg and Adolph Eisman at 3109 West 25th street and demanded that they abandon the store "because there are too many fruit stores here already who are members of our association."

When the owners refused to leave a black powder bomb was exploded in the doorway on Sept. 27. Steinberg and Eisman still hung on, and another threat came from Fox and Cohen. Two nights later the place was set afire with a gasoline torch. Prosecutor Joseph Nicolai cleaned up the case against officials of the United Shoe Repairers' association and announced he was ready to ask the grand jury on Monday to indict Frank Comagan, president of the association; Irwin "Lee" Sandler, business agent, and R. Madia, organizer.

Bombs Laid to Trio.
The trio are charged with having conspired to bomb the shoe repair shop of Jacob Nusbond, 2610 West 16th street, and with having hurled a stench bomb in the shop of Abraham Friedman, 1534 South Turner avenue. Four or five more offenses will be added by Monday, Mr. Nicolai said, and he declared he would ask indictments for each case.

SMOOT IN RAGE AS NOISY CROWD SPOILS SPEECH

Philadelphia Uninterested
in U. S. Finances.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 3.—[Special.]—Angered at the failure of his audience to give an attentive ear to his address covering the financial state of the nation, Senator Smoot of Utah halted his speech in the Metropolitan Opera house tonight and assailed the crowd for its lack of interest in the affairs of the government.

The chairman of the U. S. senate finance committee was the chief speaker at a rally in behalf of the Republican city ticket, and the candidacy for mayor of Harry A. Mackey. Soon after the senator started upon his speech, which dealt mostly with debt and tax reduction and tariff matters, the crowd began to grow restless. Several times Senator Smoot was interrupted—once when one of the many brass bands entered the auditorium and began to blare out a popular tune.

Halted by Woman Paraders.
Again he was halted when a dozen women with yellow stickers marched to the stage. While the senator waited patiently for the act to end the women turned their backs, revealing in black type across their stickers:

"Vote the straight Republican ticket."

Resuming his speech, the Utah senator went from one phase of the financial problem to another, and the more he talked the more restless the crowd became. Finally his patience became exhausted and, dropping his prepared speech to the table, he turned to the audience.

Perhaps you are not interested in this long array of figures, but I thought I was speaking to a gathering of business men. I really thought you had an interest in the affairs of your government," he said. "I am vitally interested in the reduction of taxes. I am giving all my heart and strength to a study of the problem."

The senator returned to his printed speech, but before he had uttered a half dozen words some one in the gallery shouted "Choke him!"

Plainly upset, the western senator began to jump paragraph after paragraph and at times ignored whole pages. But the big crowd that packed every inch of the Metropolitan became so noisy that Samuel M. Vauclain, president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, who presided, stepped to the center of the stage, raised his hand, and tried to bring about order.

From laughing, shuffling their feet, and indulging in a general burst of conversation, the crowd turned to inopportune applauding. Without rhyme or reason they broke in on the speech with vigorous hand clapping, but the senator, trying to talk down the noise, continued to wade through his lengthy speech.

Perspiring from the ordeal, the senator mopped his brow as he walked toward his seat. He was white with various enterprises are 452 other organizations.

ART INSTITUTE PLANS WING TO FRONT ON LAKE

"All this activity," Mr. Eckhart continued, "is carried on in a building that has not been appreciably altered since world's fair days. Crowded into every gallery and exhibition room and jammed into every available nook of this $5,000,000 building is more than $12,000,000 worth of art and equipment."

The proposed addition to the present building, Mr. Eckhart said, would mean the construction of two stories above the Goodman Memorial Theater and the extension of the Art Institute's property line eastward 125 feet to within 45 feet of the present West drive in Grant park.

Would Triple Capacity.

The east front of the building would then extend the full 300 feet from Monroe street to Jackson boulevard and would be of a design to harmonize with the west facade fronting Michigan avenue. The capacity of the structure, it is estimated, would be tripled or quadrupled.

The new wing would be connected with the old building by two additional enclosed bridges over the Illinois Central railroad right of way, paralleling the present viaduct on the north and south. Ample space for landscaped terraces would be left between the east front and the West drive and flanking the building on the north and south.

Application was made this week to the Illinois Central Railroad company for permission to construct the bridges, and officers of the railroad have promised an answer within a few days.

Mr. Eckhart outlined the method by which the trustees plan to secure the most suitable plans for the new wing. "As soon as we receive word that the south park commissioners have informed the project," he said, "we will immediately have our engineers draw a detailed description of the present building and also of the new land to be occupied."

"Copies of these will be sent to the half dozen leading architects in Chicago, New York, Boston, and other American cities, as well as to others in England, France, Germany, Italy, and other European countries. Possible candidates will be offered fees of perhaps two or three thousand dollars each, as well as allotments for their expenses, and they will be asked to submit competitive designs."

Hope to Start in 1929.

"When all of the designs have been submitted the trustees will select the one that they find best suited to their needs. In 1929 the Art Institute will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of its founding. By that time we hope to start actual work."

"When everything is prepared we shall go to a number of Chicagoans who have frequently stated their desire to assist in the completion of the Art Institute and ask each for a contribution of $1,000,000 to pay for the construction and maintenance of a portion of the new addition. That part of the building paid for by each will be named in honor of the donor or some person designated by him. It would be unwise to mention any names at this time, but the trustees have assurance that at least four such contributions will be forthcoming at that time."

Immediate embarkation on the building program, Mr. Eckhart said, was contingent only upon the action of the south park board and the Illinois Central railroad. No legal obstacles, he believed, would be encountered. According to the terms of an agreement filed with the Illinois Supreme court and signed by all parties interested in the Montgomery Ward litigation a generation ago the Art Institute was granted permission to complete its building, although no other building may be erected in Grant park. When the present project is finished the Art Institute will have attained its full growth.

PILSUDSKI COUP PUTS ALL POWER IN HIS HANDS

Kills Polish Parliament in Budget Row.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

WARSAW, Poland, Nov. 3.—By a coup d'état today Marshal Józef Pilsudski put the final seal on his dictatorship. Parliament, which had been prorogued after a compulsory prorogation, again was prorogued by the marshal's decree, not for a month this time, but for the remainder of the term of the present legislative body, which expires on Nov. 30. According to the Polish constitution, new elections must be held within three months.

As a result of today's prorogation, parliamentary control will not be exercised over the spending of a cent of the recent American loan.

Financial disputes brought about Premier Pilsudski's drastic action. At preliminary meetings the deputies of various parties criticized vigorously the vague budget estimates submitted by the government. Today's sitting was marked by a strong demand for concrete estimates, with justification the various doubtful items.

Pilsudski Dodges Fire.

Marshal Pilsudski did not face the fire of the chamber. His lieutenant, the Premier Bartel, with a few other cabinet ministers, including the home minister, in full general's uniform, attended to the chamber and read the prorogation decree. For a moment the house was shocked to silence. Then the storm broke. "Coward traitor! Wait, the day of reckoning is at hand!" staid old parliamentarians shouted at the government's representatives.

"You let Americans control national finances and refuse to allow parliament its say," was the cry of the Nationalists, who joined in the chorus of denunciation, during which the ministers silently slunk out of the chamber.

(The complaint about American control of Polish finances is probably a relic of the selection of Charles Ducey of Chicago as finance administrator of Poland.)

SOCIALISTS IN OPPOSITION.

President Ignace Moscicki, an opponent of Pilsudski's, called parliament for Oct. 31 to vote the budget. When, though, the diet had been adjourned in September, to eliminate friction between it and the government, the Socialist party, now on the opposition side, has weakened the administration.

Marshal Pilsudski came out of retirement during the uprisings early in May, 1926. Disapproval of the Witos government, he said, caused him to overthrow the régime and assume the power. Since that time, though refusing the post of president of the republic when elected, he has cut a clear, unswerving path toward a virtual dictatorship, gathering more power into his hands with each move. He suggested the selection of Ignace Moscicki as president. M. Bartel, another of his supporters, was made premier, later to be made vice premier under Pilsudski, who assumed the premiership. Marshal Pilsudski frequently warned parliament that he would not permit criticism of himself or his laws.

CHARGES 2 WITH $106,000 FRAUD IN USE OF MAILED

Charles Earl Simon Levy, former president of the Boylston Coal company, and Thomas G. Gibbs, former credit manager of a downtown bank, obtained $106,000 from banks in the middle west by representing that they were opening accounts for the coal concern in various towns, were made yesterday in the opening statement of Assistant United States District Attorney Edward J. Hume. Levy and Gibbs are on trial on charges of using the mails to defraud.

Federal Judge James H. Wilkinson took charge of the examination of the jurors and a jury was chosen in three hours.

Representatives of 102 banks which extended credit to the Boylston concern, which went bankrupt with liabilities of approximately $1,000,000 and no assets, are expected to be government witnesses.

VERMONT IN GRIP OF FLOODS DUE TO HEAVY RAINS

Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Virtually the entire state of Vermont tonight was in the grip of floods following upon a night and day of heavy rainfall, which caused loss of life, millions of dollars worth of damage, and paralyzed rail and road transportation.

Two men were believed drowned in Barre by the collapse of a building in the basement of which they were at work. A third drowning was reported in Pittsfield.

Rutland, where floods forced the evacuation of many buildings, and cut off electric light, power and gas service, was in danger from the threatened collapse of great reservoirs above the city. At a late hour the water was rising steadily, but the dams still held.

56 MOB VICTIMS IN ONE ALABAMA COUNTY FLOGGED

Mobile, Ala., Nov. 3.—[Special.]—An appalling record of the flogging by masked mobs in Talladega county over a period of three years of fifty-six defenseless persons, white and black, men and women, was made public today. Attorney General Charles C. McCall stated that these more than half a hundred lashings were brought to light by investigators working out of his office. The record extends from 1924 through August of the present year, he said.

In 90 per cent of these cases, he added, investigations have revealed that the floggings were perpetrated by masked mobs wearing the robes and regalia of the Ku Klux Klan.

Mobs' Methods Described.
The method used, the attorney general said his investigators found, was for three or four men with handkerchiefs over their faces to go to the house of the victim and call him or her outside, and then these men would escort the victim to a roadway, where a band of figures wearing the robes and regalia of the Klan waited.

This band of hooded figures, it is stated, then took the victim to any place their whim directed, and there the lash was applied. Some of those flogged were beaten so cruelly, it is alleged, that bits of their clothing were embedded in their flesh.

In addition to floggings, it is stated, a number of barns and other buildings were burned and two Negro houses were dynamited by nocturnal marauders after owners of the buildings had received mysterious warnings.

All but a few of those flogged in Talladega county have died the state, Attorney General McCall said, some of them now residing in Texas, some in Tennessee, Georgia or other states.

Disagreement between Gov. Bibb Graves and Attorney General McCall

as to employment of attorneys to prosecute flogging cases, and the amount to be expended for this purpose, became known today following a conference between the governor and the attorney general in Gov. Graves' office.

Disagree as to Cost.

Gov. Graves had called Attorney General McCall into conference in order to learn how much the flogging investigations and prosecutions would cost the state. The governor inquired particularly concerning the employment by the attorney general of F. P. Bricken, Luverne attorney, to assist the state in prosecuting the Crenshaw county flogging cases.

Attorney General McCall advised the governor that he thought a reasonable fee for the prosecuting attorney for the state would be $100 a case. Gov. Graves objected that this standard might involve the state in an expense of $10,000 in the present flogging investigation.

Following his interview with the governor Attorney General McCall said: "I cannot think of any phase of crime that has come to the attention of law abiding citizens of the nation and state which deserves more vigorous treatment and a wiser disposition of public funds than is warranted in blotting out forever the recently increasing disgraceful escapades. They are perpetrated by men who have arrogantly assumed, with the aid of the mask and the lash, the Klan robe and regalia, to pay insult to the duly constituted courts of justice.

"Whatever it costs to clear the name of Alabama of these brazen crimes will, in my opinion, be money wisely expended."

Private Detective Seized on Charges of Grafting

Harry R. Lee, 48, of 4140 Ellis avenue, former private detective, yesterday was arrested in the federal building on charges that he had accepted a bribe of $1,100 to "fix" cases against Joseph Klesak, 5144 North McVicker's avenue, and Stanley Kozal, 5082 Naragansett avenue. Klesak and Kozal are in difficulties with the immigration department. Lee will be arraigned today on charges of impersonating a federal officer.

CHICAGO POLICE TAKE SUSPECTS IN INDIANA MURDER

Acting on an anonymous tip that they would find information concerning the bank robbery at Lafayette, Ind., last Tuesday, in which Captain of Police Arman was killed by the fleeing bandits, Detective Sergeants Thomas Cooper and William Smith yesterday raided a flat at 4400 Draxel boulevard and arrested five men.

They are Gilbert (Red) Golden, 2454 Indiana avenue; Charles Golden, 2454 West 63d street; John Brannigan, 7283 South Union avenue; James Saxton, 4210 Cottage Grove avenue, and Joseph La Vier, 5713 Magnolia avenue. They will be held and viewed by the robbery victims.

The raid at Lafayette was staged in the Tippecanoe Loan and Trust company. The robbers obtained only $1,000, an anonymous letter having warned the bank that there was to be a holdup.

BENTON MAN A SUICIDE.
Benton, Ill., Nov. 3.—[Special.]—Michael Dillon, 38, a mine electrician, committed suicide at his home today by firing a bullet through his head. Domestic trouble is assigned as the cause.

$75,000 BLAZE IS CORRIGAN DEBUT AS FIRE CHIEF

Michael J. Corrigan, who succeeded Arthur Seyferlich on Wednesday as chief of the Chicago fire department, took personal command last night of firemen battling a $75,000 blaze in the plant of the Art Wall Paper company, 413 North Sangamon street.

The flames started in the basement and destroyed practically the entire paper stock of that concern. Traffic on Sangamon street and Milwaukee avenue was held up for nearly two hours. The fire was used by Chief Corrigan as a test for a new type of engine and he asserted the results were satisfactory.

Mayor Thompson last night explained the ouster of Chief Arthur F. Seyferlich as a measure of efficiency only, denying there was any rift between him and Fire Commissioner A. W. Goodrich, or that there was any political significance in the change.

"Mr. Seyferlich," the mayor said, "served ably in his time, but he is 58 years old and we needed a younger, more vigorous man."

CUTSOWNTHROAT THEN SLAYS HIS BRIDE OF MONTH

Owen B. Derrick, 48 years old, stabbed and killed Mrs. Grace Derrick, 44 years old, to whom he was married only a month ago, in their home at 6205 South Marshfield avenue last night. A few minutes earlier he had slashed his throat with a knife, inflicting injuries so severe that physicians at the Englewood hospital expressed doubt that he would recover. Derrick had tried to kill himself in a delicatessen store at 1806 West 63d street of which he was part owner.

Running out of the store, he went to his home, took a razor from the bathroom and slashed his wife. Mrs. Derrick tried to call the police and a telephone operator transmitted the call for her. She was dead and her husband was lying on the floor unconscious when the police arrived.

ROBBERS FLIES WITH $100.

VIEWERS NAME EXPERTS TO HELP IN TAX VALUATION

Miss Haley's Fight Said to Prompt Move.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The board of review yesterday announced the appointment of three real estate experts to aid the board in tax valuations. They are Perkins B. Bass, Thomas F. Sullivan, and Jacob L. Keweenaw. Such a committee of experts has been appointed each year for several years. Heretofore they have advised the board on real estate values when complaints were filed against the assessment figures.

But yesterday the board of review departed from its usual course and ordered the experts "to make a comprehensive investigation and to report their findings on land values throughout the county." This general order, it is said, was for the purpose of meeting the general attack on realty valuations made by Margaret Haley of the Chicago Teachers' federation.

Plan Uniform Assessment.

"Every effort," said Chairman Little, "is to be made to establish an assessment as uniform as possible, taking into consideration the assessed values as compared with the market value of property." The real estate valuers are to make detailed reports of inequalities and particular effort will be made to find and correct any inequalities in land values that may have been made by the board of assessment this year. We have ordered a comparison of the land values this year with those of previous years.

With the information which such an investigation would produce the three real estate men, it was pointed out, will be in a position to testify in opposition to Miss Haley, who has petitioned the state tax commission to have a revaluation of all Chicago real estate. She charges many gross inequalities in tax valuations and Chairman Malone of the state commission has indicated that a revaluation will be ordered if Miss Haley proves her charges.

Has Right to Order Revaluation.

It has been the popular impression that there must be a showing of gross inequalities in tax values before the state commission is authorized to order a revaluation. That may have applied to the old state board of equalization, but the new state tax commission, its members say, may order a revaluation whenever it deems that necessary or desirable.

The law says: "The state tax commission shall have power: (6) To order in any year a revaluation of all real and personal property, or real or personal property, or class of real or personal property in any county or in any assessment district thereof, when in its judgment such revaluation is desirable or necessary, and for that purpose to cause such revaluation to be made by the local assessment officers, and to cause it to be substituted for the original assessment."

All Miss Haley is required to do is to make a showing that a revaluation is desirable or necessary in the judgment of the state tax commission, it is pointed out. She already has a ruling from them that Chicago is an assessment district of Cook county. Apparently the board of review is preparing to show, through the three real estate experts, that a revaluation is not desirable and therefore not necessary.

The uncertainty of the situation has caused considerable activity among the better informed property owners. Tax spending agencies, however, have indicated little interest in the matter, although a revaluation of all the real estate in Chicago probably would delay for weeks and perhaps months the collection of taxes next year.

LEADERS IN FARM STATES CLASHING OVER LOWDEN

Nye Assails, Dickinson Boosts Illinoisian.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 3.—(Special.)—Sharp disagreement on the question of presidential candidates marked pronouncements today by two champions of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill.

Senator Nye (Rep., N. D.), in a message to the convention of the North Dakota Farmers' union at Jamestown, attacked the candidacy of Frank O. Lowden and in effect asserted that support of the former Illinois governor would not be consistent with the principles for which backers of the McNary-Haugen bill stand.

Representative Dickinson (Rep., Ia.) issued a statement urging farm groups to stand together both as to candidates and measures. He strongly approved the Lowden candidacy and insisted that there can be no compromise on the principles embodied in the McNary-Haugen bill. He declared that "there will be an equalization in the new farm bill or an equalization fight in the next campaign."

Didn't Mention His Name.

Senator Nye, who is one of the influential group which is promoting the presidential boom of Senator Norris (Rep., Neb.), did not use Lowden's name in his message but referred to him so directly that there could be no question as to his meaning. Support of Lowden, Senator Nye intimated, would be equivalent to approving large expenditures of money in presidential campaigns. He revived the issue raised in connection with the payment of Lowden money to two Missouri delegates to the 1926 Republican convention.

Senator Nye said that in choosing a candidate for President the farmers must have their eyes "wide open to the fact that such matters as freight rates, credit costs, the influence of wealth in the conduct of campaigns as well as the purpose sought in the McNary-Haugen bill must enter into any thorough farm relief program."

Refers to Slush Funds.

"The whole agricultural program falls flat if we do not determine the battle to the influence of great slush expended in the conduct of campaigns," said Senator Nye. "The amount to be used in a campaign and the names to which it is put constitute an issue that will be a leading one in this, or that we may be sure."

"Let us then proceed in any consideration of the selection of presidential candidates with full knowledge that first qualifications demanded of candidates will be for friendliness to thorough farm relief and cleanliness from any taint of past campaign scandals. Let us not overlook the fact that one of our friends, now most prominently mentioned as a candidate, was defeated at Chicago in 1926 because of a scandal raised over the use of his money by his friends in attempting to unduly influence the vote of the Missouri delegation, in which other hearings before the committee on privileges and sections disclosed they were caught redhanded."

Mr. Dickinson described former Gov. Lowden as the one Republican who can defeat Gov. Al Smith. He said that if the eastern leadership of the Republican party "insists on combating its own candidate for the westerner to vote for and then upon calling him names when he demands something in his own right the western slogan will be 'Listen or lose the west.'

"With democracy led by Gov. Al Smith dividing the votes on religious and wet and dry issues in St. Louis and Kansas City, the Republican candidate must draw the farm vote of Missouri to win," said Mr. Dickinson. "Lowden can do it. With Gov. Al Smith carrying two or more large eastern states, where can the Republican party make up the loss? Only in the border states. What candidate can be selected to insure such results in Kentucky, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Nebraska, New Mexico, Nevada, and possibly Indiana? Lowden is the only man suggested that can do the trick. His popularity among the rural people is the best guarantee of success."

"With Republican and Democratic governors of the Mississippi valley states agreeing on economic questions, a readjustment of political alignment is in the making. Once the new alignment is made, it will stabilize the political history of the country for the next half century.

Warms Chances Would Be.

"Suppose the Republican party continues to disregard the demands of the farming section of our country and Gov. Al Smith as the Democratic nominee should personally endorse the legislation and write his promises into his platform, you would then have a repetition of the campaign of 1896, and chances would reign in both political parties."

"A keen minded leader would do this very thing and Gov. Al Smith is as keen as they make them."

"It will be a sad day for eastern Republicans when they defeat a well qualified man for nomination on the ground that he happens to be a friend of the farmer. It is time for a little practical thinking in politics."

Senator Brookhart (Rep., Ia.) in a statement sponsored by the railroad group said that the farm problem cannot be solved by the mere enactment of a farm bill. To eliminate transportation discriminations against the farmer, Senator Brookhart said that railroad legislation also must be passed. He proposed consolidation of the railroads by condemnation of their stocks and bonds and operation of roads by a corporation whose earnings would be fixed by law.

Australia to Sell Losing

Line of Steamships

CANBERRA, Australia, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The Bruce government definitely has decided to dispose of the Commonwealth line of steamships which showed a loss of almost $1,000,000 for the seven months ended March 31, 1926.

ITALIAN SPEED FLYER TRIES FOR RECORD TODAY

(Chicago Tribune From Service.)

ROME, Nov. 3.—The Italian department of aeronautics, which refused to seek an international confirmation of Maj. Mario de Bernardi's speed record of 391 miles an hour ten days ago, due to influences which remain undisclosed, today announced that the Italian flyer would make a new assault on the world's speed mark tomorrow over the international course off Venice.

All the air attaches and many foreign journalists have been invited to the test. Special sleeping car accommodations and hotels are being supplied by the government for a repetition of what the government insists on treating as only a dress rehearsal despite the presence of official observers when the record of Flight Lieutenant S. N. Webster of the British air service was first broken.

MOTHER IN COMA 2 WEEKS AFTER BIRTH OF TWINS

(Chicago Tribune From Service.)

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 3.—(AP)—One of the most unusual medical cases on record in the northwest continued to baffled physicians today as they made every effort to aid Mrs. Joseph Dech, who has been unconscious since she was struck by an automobile two weeks ago.

Mrs. Dech gave birth to twins a few hours after the accident, but she was unaware of the fact today as she entered the fourteenth day of coma. The babies, a boy and a girl, are reported as doing fairly well.

Artificial methods of feeding are keeping Mrs. Dech alive, and the three attending physicians express the hope that she will recover.

from the Chuckle-makers
(Chuckle No. 32)

By Leonard Voth, 225 Lincoln Park West, Fourth, Illinois

"Which is the quickest way to St. Joseph's Hospital?" shouted the 100% joyrailer as he stood in the middle of a busy street while motorists dodged by trying to avoid hitting him.

"They right where you are," yelled the traffic policeman.

Everybody in my factory had a real chuckle over this one. Judging from what our friends tell us, the day may come when they will use Chuckles to bring people to when they have come out of accidents in the hospital. They use them for almost everything else, so why not that?

If you want a Chuckle, buy five for 5c. Get an inspiration and then you may get—

STRIKERS FORCE 1 COLORADO COAL MINE TO CLOSE

Denver, Colo., Nov. 2.—(AP)—One mine was forced to close in southern Colorado today because of a strikers' demonstration, and all other reported increased working forces as the strike of Colorado coal miners dragged through its sixteenth day.

As a result of the strikers' demonstration that caused the Ideal mine in Huerfano county to suspend operations, Colorado Fuel and Iron company officials announced they would drop their "no resistance" policy. Sup. M. M. Watson of the Ideal mine was instructed to use his own discretion in the future in handling trespassers in company property.

"Avoid bloodshed if possible" was the only suggestion made to the mine superintendent.

Listen to 12 Speakers.

The demonstration was held in the public school grounds about 300 yards from the mouth of the mine. The school property is owned by the Colorado Fuel and Iron company. More than 300 strikers and their I. W. M. leaders went to the property at 2 a. m. and remained until 8 a. m., listening to 12 speakers who told the miners not to go to work.

I. W. M. headquarters at Valerius issued another official statement expressing confidence that the strike would be successful and saying the organization would carry on until the operators granted the, Jacksonville wage scale, fixing $7.75 as a base pay for a day.

As to Aid Strikers.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 2.—(Special)—Steps toward safeguarding the interests of idle coal miners, a strike has been in progress for nearly two years, were considered today at a conference here of the international officers of the United Mine Workers of America.

Philip Murray, vice president of the union, in charge in the Pittsburgh field, said the union was complying with the provisions of an injunction which permits evictions of miners from houses owned by the operators.

Several thousand families will be involved in the evictions, Murray said. The union is providing barracks for these persons, he said, but their numbers are so large that houses and other public buildings are being used as temporary living quarters. John L. Lewis, international president, and other officials, said there would be no change in the union policies in this district.

"It is a contest of endurance," Lewis said, "between the capacity of the companies to absorb huge financial losses and the ability of men, women, and children to withstand privation."

RED PROPAGANDA STIRS CHINESE ARMY TO MUTINY

LONDON, Nov. 2.—(U.P.)—A communist revolt by the Ninth Nationalist army in China was reported today by the Shanghai correspondent of the Westminster Gazette. The revolt was precipitated, the correspondent said, when 2,000 communists seized the town of Ichang. Their morale undermined by an intensive campaign of Red propaganda, the correspondent said, the army mutinied at Chanchow.

Route Christian General.

PEKING, China, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Gen. Chang Tsung-chang, the Shantung commander allied to the Peiking government, who is conducting a drive in the province of Honan against Feng Yu-shiang, the Christian general, has reported further successes.

The Shantung forces north of the Yellow river are reported to have captured the important town of Weihsuei, after defeating Feng's troops, who are retreating toward Sinciang, fifteen miles to the southwest. The Shantung troops in central Honan have captured Hauchow.

To Curb Pirates.

SEANGHAI, China, Nov. 2.—(AP)—The new Cantonese government has ordered its troops to stamp out piracy at the notorious lair at Blas bay, near Canton.

LEWIS MURDER JURY COMPLETED AFTER WEEKS

758 Are Called Before
12 Are Chosen.

The jury which is to determine the fate of Harry J. Lewis, labor agent, who is charged with having slain Max Braverman, a hick peddler, was completed yesterday in Judge Stanley Karkow's court. It took exactly four weeks before twelve citizens of the community could be found who would say they have no conscientious scruples against the death penalty in a proper case and no fixed opinion.

State's Attorney Crowe, who is leading the prosecution, will advise the jury this morning the advice on which he will ask the jury to inflict the death penalty. He will tell the jury, he said, that the shooting of Braverman, the father of five children, was the result of the jumpy peddler's refusal to join a union being organized by Lewis.

Assistant State's Attorney Harold Levy and Ernest Byrne, who are assisting in the prosecution, said the state is prepared to call fifteen witnesses against Lewis. Among the witnesses will be Louis Newman, whose home was bombed shortly after his identification of Lewis as the killer of Braverman. The records show that 620 witnesses were actually examined in the jury box before the twelve jurors were agreed on by both sides. Of this number 523 were excused because of scruples against the death penalty or their opinion, 64 by agreement of attorneys, and 33 by peremptory challenges. In all, 174 men responded to the 300 summonses issued, but many of those responding were excused for various reasons before entering the jury box.

The jurors are: J. Arthur Taylor, 111 East 64th street; Leonard W. Vider, 4019 West North avenue; L. J. Van Stone, 1639 East 77th street; William Lutz, Berwyn; Robert J. Boyle, 111 East 73d street; Walter K. Hawtorn, Argos; R. H. Olney, Chicago; Edgar E. F. Linn, 1108 South LaSalle street; Edward Horneoff, Summit; Chas. Weaver, La Grange; Arthur A. Bollen, Orland; and Henry N. Bodeck, 439 North Kimball avenue.

Divorce Suit Says Husband Slashed Wife with Knife

Mr. Marie Shebert, 4105 North Long avenue, filed suit for divorce in the county court yesterday against Max Shebert, owner of the Petty Drug company, alleging he slashed her arms with a knife while intoxicated. The bill drawn by the last firm of Shebert & Davis, lists the defendant's income at $15,000 a year plus dividends from $150,000 in various securities.

DRIVER HELD TO GRAND JURY IN SURGEON'S DEATH

Benjamin Weissman, 3123 Grenshaw street, driver of the automobile that crashed with a car in which Dr. B. F. Lounsbury, noted surgeon, was killed on Oct. 21, was yesterday held to the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter on the recommendation of a coroner's jury.

No deaths from motor accidents in Cook county were reported during the day, the toll for 1927 remaining at 754. Bernard Loeff, 5 years old, 3506 Broadway received internal injuries and a possible fracture of the skull when he was struck by an automobile in front of 442 Belmont avenue and carried twenty feet on the bumper. Police arrested the driver, Waldemar Hultgren, 3708 North Halsted street.

An automobile that sped away and escaped after the accident struck and injured Lester Norris, a draftsman, 22 years old, 67 East Oak street, and Miss Hilda Conrad, 19 years old, 2650 Iowa street, at Wabash avenue and Adams street.

Prevent Crime Early in Life, Is Plea of Booth

Prevent crime rather than combat it was the keynote of a message given last evening at the Scottish Rite Masonic temple, Walton place and Dearborn street, by Charles Brandon Booth, grandson of Gen. William Booth, founder of the Salvation army. "Chicago spends $1,000,000 a year in sending 2,500 boys to reformatories," said Mr. Booth. "It would be better to try to form character early than reform the boy later." Mr. Booth is field secretary of the International Big Brother and Big Sister federation.

New Models in All Types, Materials and Furs Maintain the Interest of the Annual Women's Coat Sale

Arriving for the sale, especially, the new models maintain the great interest of an event marked by values and styles not before achieved. The chic which can be expressed only with well designed and well cut lines, the appearance which only careful workmanship on fine material and fine furs achieves, distinguish every model which we are showing. But the low, unusually interesting prices mark them as even more distinguished, notable values.

TAFT DEMANDS BETTER JURIES, SPEEDIER TRIALS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 3.—(Special.)—Radical reforms which would result in better juries, prompter trials in criminal cases, and more certain punishment in cases of convictions was advocated by Chief Justice Taft in an address today before the National Conference for Reduction of Crime.

The chief justice decried the failure of society to adopt reforms which would make possible the quick conviction and punishment of criminals.

While agreeing that every one is in favor of measures for reforming criminals, Chief Justice Taft warned that society must never forget that the chief and first object of the prosecution of crime is its deterrent effect upon would-be criminals in the prosecution of society.

Folks Not Adequate

More policemen for most cities and more constables in the rural sections were urged by Mr. Taft. The American system of criminal prosecution suffers, he said, because the people have not through the states an adequate police force which can apprehend criminals and bring them to justice. He also urged legislation reducing the opportunities of counsel for convicted men to delay final disposition of all cases.

Particular stress was laid by Justice Taft upon the necessity to better the caliber of the juries serving in criminal cases.

"Exemptions from jury service ought to be cut down, and society ought to be able to secure a jury that approaches the issues with a sense of its obligation to enforce the law without fear or favor," the chief justice said. "Juries ought to have intelligence enough to learn from the judge what the law is and to weigh the evidence with reference to its violation.

Wants Men of Intelligence

"The method of selection of juries," Mr. Taft continued, "ought not to be such that counsel for the defendants may exclude worthy citizens from the panel. A further examination of the methods by which juries are selected must be made so that juries of weak intelligence, of little experience and subject to emotions easily aroused may be eliminated from jury work."

Justice Taft dwelt with satisfaction on what he termed an aroused public interest in the necessity for bettering legal machinery and expressed confidence that progress soon would be made.

"We are an easy going people," said Justice Taft. "We allow abuses to creep in until they become so objectionable that we rouse ourselves and then work radical reforms. I hope such a time is at hand now. The country at large is ripe for measures of this kind."

Justice Taft advised his audience of the need of legislation to enlarge the powers of the judges to guide the trial and to help the jury in understanding the evidence and in reaching its conclusions upon the evidence. It should obviate the camouflage that is so often created in the court room by the skill and histrionic ability of counsel, Mr. Taft said.

"The procedure and rules of evidence should not be such that the lawyers can weave a web to trip the trial judge," Chief Justice Taft said.

The sessions of the crime convention ended with a banquet tonight at which Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, presided. Speakers at the closing session urged the substitution of scientific mental examination for the present paid expert medical testimony in insanity trials.

1ST YANKS SLAIN IN WORLD WAR TEN YEARS AGO

PARIS, Nov. 3.—(Special.)—Ten years ago today the first American soldiers were killed in action in France by enemy fire in the front line trenches at Arras, in Lorraine, about ten miles east of Lunenburg, five weeks from the day the first American troops entered the line.

On the night of Nov. 4, under cover of a heavy barrage, a German sniping party entered the sector occupied by Company F of the 14th Infantry.

Corporal James Gresham and Private

Marie D. Hay and Thomas Wright of this company were killed during the raid.

The episode was recalled this evening in a long article in Le Temps by Gen. F. F. Bortolux, who commanded the French division to which the American First division was attached.

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 3.—(Special.)—Today, the tenth anniversary of the death of James Bethel Gresham, the first American soldier to fall in the world war, found his grave here without flowers. Only dead grass and leaves covered the tomb. His mother died during the last year.

The 80 per center

-always falling
a little short

So often the difference between winning and losing is so little. Too many people just miss the mark because they are 80 per centers! Not sick—just below par; tired, too quickly spent by a little effort.

Their greatest need is renewed vitality and increased resistance to infections. To build this needed vitality, physicians are recommending an old time health-builder—good cod-liver oil.

They prescribe it not only because of its "building-up" effects, but also because it protects against colds and other infections.

For these purposes scitists now know that the value of any cod-liver oil depends entirely on its content of the health-giving Vitamins A and D.

Thousands of the nation's leading physicians recommend only Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil—because its content of Vitamins A and D is so exceptionally high, and because this vitamin content is protected from deterioration.

If you feel the need of building up your health and of preventing so many colds, ask your physician about taking Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil. He knows it as a valued health-builder. For your protection insist on Squibb's.

Beautiful permanent Bakelite handle with adjustable removable brush head.

they never will have the troubles from tooth infection that your generation did

When you were young people didn't know that hidden infections in the teeth caused many dangerous diseases. Your parents thought they were taking every precaution when they taught you to use a tooth brush. Today every dentist knows that "tooth brushes" cannot be depended upon to clean between the teeth, sweep out the spaces at the roots and massage the poison out of the gum pockets. Despairing of being able to teach people up and down brushing, which is so awkward with the ordinary tooth brush, dentists designed the Clean-Be-Tween especially for up and down brushing. By adjusting the brush on the handle, every tooth can be reached, every crevice between the teeth can be swept out.

Of course this beautiful nickel-silver, monel metal and Bakelite handle costs a bit more than old fashioned tooth brushes, but Clean-Be-Tween "refills" cost only 25c each. This makes the cost of this better tooth brushing less in the long run.

FRENCH CHAMBER VOTES TO FREE 4 JAILED DEPUTIES

Release Reds Who Incited Troops to Mutiny.

BY HENRY WALES.

PARIS, Nov. 3.—The gates of Sainte Prison swung wide tonight for four French communist leaders for whom indulgent fellow deputies today ordered release, although they are accused of what usually is considered a grave offense—inciting mutiny in the army.

Three dozen comrades, who have carried on subversive propaganda effectively during the imprisonment of their chiefs, met them at the gates and cheered them lustily. Marcel Cachin, the party chief, who was one of those released, carried a portfolio full of new editorials for the party organ, presumably for inciting further troop disorders.

The other three released were Jacques Doriot, Jacques Duclos, and Andre Marty.

Must Finish Terms Later.

The radicals and Socialists joined with the communists and voted, 264 to 221, to release the quartet for the session of parliament, after which they will be forced to complete their terms.

Although the conservative benches were in an uproar over the proposal, the government offered only mild opposition, knowing that the entire left, which holds the fate of the national union cabinet in its hands, was set on freeing the Reds. The constitution of the republic accords parliament the right to release members from jail for any crime.

Deputies Called Traitors.

"It is a crying shame to release these traitors, when the poor fools of soldiers and sailors who followed their damnable counsels are still in prison," cried "Serg." Maginot, Nationalist firebrand.

"What about the freedom of ideas?" asked M. Renaudel, Socialist.

"It is not a question of what they thought, but what they did," barked Premier Poincare, referring to violent articles in the newspaper Humanite, in which M. Cachin, chief of the party, and others incited the reservists to lay down their arms, and the attempts of M. Doriot to arouse the French Indo-Chinese to join the Cantonese upheaval.

Mobilize 'Charmers' as Big Snake Invades Paris Subway

PARIS, Nov. 3.—Half a dozen of the most expert snake charmers of Paris street fairs were mobilized today to rid the subway system of a giant boa constrictor. The monster escaped from a cage in a charmer's tent in the carnival of Porte de Versailles. Wriggling along a subway station platform, it caused a small panic. The corps of charmers surrounded the serpent, threw a sack over its head, and dragged it back to its cage.

NATIVES OF DARK AFRICA LOOK TO U. S. FOR LIBERTY

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, Nov. 3.—Oscar Terry Crosby, noted American engineer, banker, explorer and assistant secretary of the treasury during the Wilson administration, having charge of the financial dealings between the United States and Europe, returned to London on his way home after six months in the interior of South Africa studying the customs of the native tribes. Given the utmost facilities by the South African government, he visited many tribes who had never been seen by another white man, except possibly the police administrators. He found even in these remote tribes a knowledge of America.

Believe U. S. Is Liberator.

In some strange way, Mr. Crosby believes, perhaps as a result of the propaganda of Marcus Garvey, the native chiefs got the idea that their liberator is coming from America, and many eagerly asked his interpreter if he was the American who was coming to free them from British rule.

Mr. Crosby says the natives, on the whole, are contented with British rule, only objecting to the fact that they are not allowed to war on each other.

Can't Understand Restrictions.

"Man's way of life is to make war and take his enemies' cattle," they told him, and they cannot understand why they are not allowed to conduct themselves like men.

Mr. Crosby is spending a few days in London, renewing acquaintances with British statesmen with whom he was associated in Washington during the war and later in the peace negotiations. He will sail for his home, which is in Virginia, on the Aquitania Saturday.

WORKERS HOPE TO WIN DEMANDS BY "OBEYING LAW"

VIENNA, Nov. 3.—Instead of calling a strike, the railroad workers of Czechoslovakia tonight decided on passive resistance until they gain their demands or have been defeated. This is the first time such sabotage has been tried on a national scale in Europe.

When asked what "passive resistance" means, the workers' leaders assert that they will insist on obeying the law. They believe railroad travel will be delayed until it becomes impossible, by obeying the law, according to which every railroad car coupling must be inspected and every piece of baggage must be weighed at every station.

Within two or three days Hungarian, Austrian and German frontier stations will be filled with international freight, while passengers will have from two to twelve hours. The only reason traffic is good now is because these laws are never obeyed.

GERMAN CHEMISTS HERE TO STUDY OUR INDUSTRIES

Ten prominent German chemists arrived in Chicago last night for a three day visit. They are making a tour of the country, studying American methods in the dye and paint industry.

The group included Dr. E. Krutts, Berlin; Everet Habich, Kassel; Wolfgang Nuehlberg, Odruf; Erich Hartmann, Halle; Dr. Gustav Zossen, Cologne; Dr. Hans Worltner, Leipzig; Dr. Theodor Lovinsohn, and son, Hermann, Berlin; Karl Karas, Dusseldorf; John Faulkenberg, Berlin; and Maurice Schnelling of Hamburg.

Dr. Hugo Simon, German consul general, met the party here. They are stopping at the Bismarck hotel.

HUSBAND SEES MISSING WIFE.

The police were asked last night to search for Mrs. Helen Meyer, 25 years old, 7110 Deborn avenue, who has been missing since Oct. 24. According to her husband, John Meyer, she left home after a quarrel.

GENEVA PARLEY ROWS TO U. S. ON WINE IMPORTS

GENEVA, Switzerland, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The controversy over whether a protective tariff introduced by wine-producing countries at the international conference for the removal of trade barriers is aimed at American protection of wine importation was partly settled when the French delegate announced at the conference tonight that the tariff would be reduced to the level of the wine growing nations of the world.

Earlier Hugh R. Wilson, American minister to Switzerland and head of the United States delegation, publicly declared the initiative taken by the representatives of the wine growing countries.

When the blow at the prevention of the importation of wine was introduced at a committee meeting of the conference Mr. Wilson announced that if it were actually embodied in the convention for removal of trade restrictions it might jeopardize acceptance of the document by the American government.

Notwithstanding Mr. Wilson's warning, the wine growing countries, headed by France, annexed the declaration to the draft treaty which the conference is now discussing.

The American Stand.

The American delegation held that inasmuch as American laws make it illegal to manufacture or transport intoxicants in the United States, the American government is legally entitled by the same token to shut the door to all foreign intoxicants.

The declaration was supported by the delegates of seven governments—France, Greece, Hungary, Italy, Portugal, Yugoslavia, and Switzerland.

Says Liquor Suppression Caused Unrest in Samoa

GENEVA, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Suppression of alcoholic liquor for natives and Europeans was one of the principal causes of the recent agitations in Samoa, Sir James Parr, high commissioner in London for New Zealand, told the league of nations mandate commission today. A commission of inquiry has been appointed, Sir James added, to investigate all the causes.

BIG BUSINESS MEN PHONE COOLIDGE ON HIS 'CHOOSING'

Washington, D. C., Nov. 3.—(Special)—President Coolidge has no immediate intention of issuing a supplementary statement clarifying his "I do not choose to run" announcement, it was stated authoritatively late today.

Mr. Coolidge's indisposition to add to his earlier statement was made known after it was learned at the White House that mysterious rumors had been circulating in Washington for the last few days to the effect that the President was about to amplify his statement in a manner which would leave the way open for the drafting of him in 1932.

Numerous long distance calls from business men in New York and Chicago reached the White House during the afternoon, always with the stipulation that Mr. Coolidge's action would be taken "after the close of the market."

The first report was from Wall Street and declared that Mr. Coolidge would announce that he would consent to become a candidate after all.

The second report, also from a "big business" source, declared Mr. Coolidge would announce in his Philadelphia speech Nov. 11 before the United League that he would not accept the nomination.

The third rumor had it that the President is to accept the chairmanship of the United States Steel corporation's board when he retires.

White House officials were mystified as to the origin of the reports.

It was said today that some Republican leaders led by R. B. Crampton, national committeeman, plan to make every effort to obtain a statement from President Coolidge when the national committee meets in December.

11 DIE, 26 MISSING AS LINER CRUSHES CROWDED FERRY

STONNET, Australia, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The peaceful decks of a shoddy ferry boat were thrown into an uproar of horror and death today when the boat, carrying 100 persons, many of them school children, was crushed beneath the steamship Tahiti, bound for San Francisco.

There was a terrific explosion and timber was hurled in every direction. The ferry boat settled rapidly and sank within three minutes.

Eleven bodies have been recovered. Fifty persons were treated for injuries. According to latest estimates, twenty-six are still missing.

REED ON GOSSETT CHARGE.

LOUISIANA, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The grand jury in this case returned a charge of cheating, beating and robbing Mrs. Harry W. Gossett, 25, of two diamond rings in her room at 3223 Washington boulevard, Oct. 30.

WOMAN QUOTES KING GEORGE V. ON POOR'S NEEDS

Points Job for Mayor to Improve Housing.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

(Picture on back page.)

King George V. came in for some kind words in Chicago yesterday. Miss Mary McDowell, speaking at the housing conference at the Women's City club, said that the king had pointed the way for this and other cities when he said that if a healthy race is to be reared, if infant mortality is to be reduced, if the death rate is to be cut, if excessive drinking, crime, and unrest are to be curbed, good homes must be regarded as the most potent agency.

Within a mile or two of the loop Chicago has some unsightly breeding spots of crime and disease. It was shown in pictures and statistics at the conference.

There are houses that have been condemned for years still containing families. There are 1,618 rooms so dark that one cannot read in them. Sanitary conditions are vile. Sociologists agree these conditions breed crime and disease just as surely as sunshine and good earth bring forth a rose.

Here's Home Propaganda.

It might be a good thing, the conference decided in effect, if the city authorities would leave British propaganda alone and get down to enforcing the present laws and adding the Chicago housing commission in plans for new houses.

"There is nothing so coarsening as bad housing," said Mrs. McDowell. "There is nothing so civilizing as running hot water."

Resolutions were passed by the conference to inquire of the health department and the corporation counsel what method must be taken to get rid of houses already condemned. Stating that Chicago is behind New York, Philadelphia, and other cities in housing reform, and that sufficient capital will be available here after practical demonstrations are made, the conference asked the housing commission to develop and execute with all possible speed plans for one or more model housing projects for the overcrowded areas.

Albert F. Allen, commercial engineer for the Illinois Bell Telephone company, who is chairman of the housing commission committee on plans and surveys, outlined the work he thought the commission should do for the poorer classes of Chicago in its attempt to do away with the slums.

Could Aid 75,000.

Mr. Allen thought the living conditions of 75,000 could and should be improved. The greatest chance for direct help, he said, is through the anforcement of present building and sanitary laws, the actual destruction of condemned dwellings, with legal aid to those who are imposed on by unscrupulous owners or agents. Greater publicity as to who the owners are may prove to be necessary for best results, he said.

He said the housing commission has not yet given out its policies or conclusions and that it has not had sufficient funds to do effective work. The work, he declared, was in no way a work of charity, but a work of sound business sense, in which the business men of Chicago should be the first to take an active interest if they wish healthy, active, and efficient workers.

A. L. Foster said colored people have been made the victims of bad housing and high rents here. Miss Jane Adams and Miss Harriet E. Vittum discussed other phases of the housing problem.

SCRAMBLES NOTE, KILLS SELF.

A man believed to be Frank Miller, 55, of Frankfort, Pa., shot and killed himself last night in a doorway at 555 West North street. On an envelope he had scribbled "Good-bye, Jane, May, and James."

Sanitary District Will

Finance Crawford Bridge

A threatened delay in the completion of the Crawford bridge, which was averted yesterday, according to President Timothy J. Crowe of the sanitary district, when the trustees appropriated a sufficient sum to settle all claims with owners of property near the approach to the bridge. Work on the bridge was begun on Sept. 25, but the construction of the 2,400 feet of concrete approaches was threatened with a year's delay because the city was unable to pay for the necessary property condemnation. Under the plan adopted yesterday the sanitary district is to be reimbursed later by the city.

LOST HUSBAND IN VIENNA'S NIGHT LIFE, WIFE SAYS

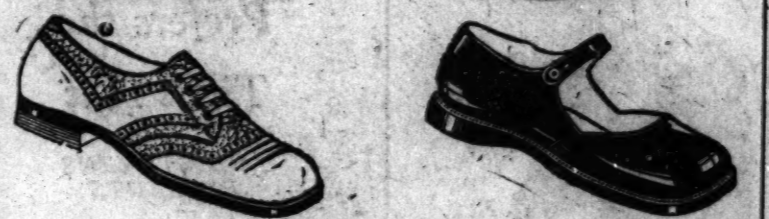

Night life in the foreign colony of the scientific schools of Vienna led to a suit for divorce being filed in the Superior court yesterday by Mrs. Virginia W. Safford, 244 North Racine avenue, against Frank K. Safford Jr., a medical student.

The bill relates that following their marriage on Oct. 13, 1925, in Port Wayne, Ind., they moved on household expenses the first three years until they were able to go abroad for Safford to complete his preparation for professional practice. But they found student life in the Austrian capital too gay for a married man, the pleading sets out, and he committed indiscretions that prompted her to return to America without him, she alleges.

POLITICS NOW FILES SCHOOLS, SAY CITIZENS

Completion of McAndrew's Trial.

"After controlling those now in power in Chicago public school affairs, the citizens of Chicago are now in a position to file a purely political rather than a school nature and source," the resolution in a resolution adopted by delegates representing various organizations. The resolution demanded immediate completion of the charge for which he was suspended.

The children of Chicago, they said, are being illegally kept out of a school head during the school year out skirmishes between the schools of King George III. and the school's shock troops of angry parents.

The resolution was drawn up by the committee on public school affairs of Chicago, which is composed of representatives of the various organizations. It was signed by Mrs. E. E. Shearman, chairman of the committee, and Mrs. Emilie Levy, secretary. This committee was organized seven years ago and is not connected with the citizens' education committee, which is also investigating school affairs.

Protest Against Methods. The committee emphatically protested against the methods used in the present so-called "trial" of the superintendent of schools, as staged on a politically controlled board, which, according to its president, "is responsible to no one," the resolution stated.

For five sessions of this trial, lasting as many weeks, have now been held, but the original charges on which the superintendent was suspended, and on which he can legally stand at this time, have not been heard. Instead the time has been taken up by trivial and irrelevant matters, with the evident intention of prolonging the trial until the superintendent's term expires in February. In the meantime Chicago has no superintendent of schools. The president of the board has usurped the superintendent's powers, and the schools are being run without the proper direction which the law requires.

A Matter for Citizens. "We believe, therefore, that every citizen of Chicago should give this matter serious attention. Make up your minds whether you believe, with the vast majority of American citizens, that our schools should be run on a purely educational basis, or under political control, the board is subservient to the president, and a superintendent who stands against the political exploitation of the schools is found to be a very annoying obstacle. There will be strong political reasons

KING DENIES BOBBED HAIR IS UNDER BAN FOR ROYAL SERVANTS

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 3.—(P)—Press reports that bobbed hair among maid-servants of England's royal household has been banned have been denied by King George through his assistant private secretary, Col. Clive Wigram. The denial was made in a letter to Lucy Derrick-Swindells of Haleshorpe, Md., in reply to one from her calling the king's attention to the report. It read:

"In reply to your letter of Oct. 30 enclosing two paragraphs entitled 'The Royal Ban on Bobbed Hair,' I write to inform you that there is no truth whatever in the report which you have brought to his majesty's attention."

Among the groups represented by the investigating committee were the Chicago Women's Club, Chicago Church Federation, Chicago Federation of Women's organizations, Illinois Council of Parent-Teacher associations, Chicago Urban League, Conference of Jewish Women's organizations, Women's Trade Union League of Chicago, the Y. W. C. A., and local bodies in Austin, Englewood, Rogers Park, and other sections of the city.

HELD AS BOBBED AT 19. Judge Francis Allagretti in the boys' court yesterday held Edward Starling, 19, to the stand in a charge of robbing the home of Miss Miriam Wahl at 4819 Sawyer avenue.

for the early removal of such a superintendent. "Only a few years ago Chicago roused itself and let it be known that it would not stand for partisan political control of the judges and courts. It should just as emphatically let it be known that its schools must also be kept free from all such sinister and destructive agencies."

After the statement had been issued by the delegates, copies were sent to each of the affiliated organizations along with a letter exhorting every member to protest against the "violation of school law and practice."

"We have become convinced that the present situation is a real crisis," the letter stated. "It concerns a million parents—all voters—with enough power to enforce any demands they decide must be made to safeguard their children's interests."

SUPT. M'ANDREW SIMPLY IGNORES BILL IN SPEECH

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 3.—(Special.)—William McAndrew, suspended superintendent of Chicago schools, disappointed hundreds of school superintendents and teachers attending the annual conference in the capital tonight, by speaking an hour and a half without making the slightest reference to his "King George" controversy with Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago.

Instead, he conducted a class on rudiments of making pupils "master" their subject instead of "covering" it. The only reference to alleged British propaganda in history textbooks in Chicago came in the introduction of Superintendent McAndrew by C. E. Dickey of Pittsburgh, superintendent of Allegheny county schools, and the presiding officer.

"The mayor of Chicago," said Superintendent Dickey, "discovered some how or other that Superintendent McAndrew was introducing into the schools of that city books that were printed in the English language."

For sale: a candy store
—Tribune Want Ad
brings 20 buyers!

IT was a profitable store. The rent was reasonable, the school nearby furnished a daily stream of young customers for candy and ice cream. But other business affairs made it necessary for Mr. Prange to sell his candy shop.

A complete description of the store in a Tribune Business Chance Want Ad brought 20 callers to view the business. Ten of these were exceptionally good prospects. Mr. Prange had no trouble selling out at his own price.

Do you wish to sell your business? Or find a partner to share the work with you? A Business Chance Want Ad in The Tribune will find interested prospects for you! Come in TODAY!

MITCHELL'S GAMES FOR LIFE TOLD BY SON

Business as a Game
Success, Is One.

Mr. Mitchell, son of the late
Mr. Mitchell, told yesterday of how his father had lived his life as a game. Several years ago Mr.
Mitchell had each of his three sons drawn with which to learn business. They are each credited with this capital.

Mr. Mitchell gave no little advice," said his son, who is secretary of the Mitchell & Co. investment company. "He lived with us and we tried to do everything in the world."

His rule for success.
"I have often heard father say that a man should tie up his resources in his entire time to any business in which he was not deeply invested. Father's rule was that success in a game, because he invested enough to play hard."

Mr. Mitchell's father at various times gave rules of conduct:
"Make your business and home show a saving each year to be used to reserve."

WOMAN TELLS WOES OF HOUSEKEEPING IN AFRICAN JUNGLES

Martha E. Johnson of Rockford, Ill., who has achieved fame by taking motion pictures of African big game, arrived in Chicago yesterday. He and his wife were guests of Frederick B. Colburn last night at the University club. Herbert E. Bradley and his wife, Mary Hastings Bradley, Chicago big game hunters, were present.

Mrs. Johnson last night told of her experiences in British East Africa. "For four years we lived 425 miles from any white people," she said, "and my playmates were elephants and rhinos."

"We lived in mud houses with grass roofs. Sometimes at night when we were sleeping the elephants would eat the grass off the roof. Housekeeping under these auspices was difficult. The wildcats would steal my meat and eggs, and the baboons would run off with my tomatoes and sweet corn."

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson plan to say farewell to their friends and make their permanent home on a crater lake in a jungle on the British East African border of Abyssinia.

The motion pictures of the jungle animals are being made under the auspices of the American Museum of Natural History.

my banker the full amount and take the stock outright.

"He considered the alternatives of the margin speculator as both evil, either to lose his margin or to find himself with a pot of easy money."

"He took it for granted we would be honest about money. He told me if I made a mistake or did something wrong to tell the facts and take the consequences. Courtesy was another thing we learned early."

"Father never bought a stock that was not seasoned and marketable. That we learned by example rather than by word."

HIS 'GHOST' BRIDE COST HIM $7,500, COURT IS TOLD

Wichita, Kan., Nov. 3.—(AP)—An marriage to a "ghost" bride and her ghostly attendants in a court here today by John Seybold, 71 year old farmer of Liberal, Kan., in his suit for $7,500 against Mrs. Nellie Moore, a spiritist medium.

Seybold accuses Mrs. Moore of having defrauded him out of that sum by means of a series of seances in which ghostly advisers helped her take money away from him.

Bought Wedding Gown.
The aged farmer told the court how he married "Sarah," a ghost, whom at times he could vaguely discern in the darkness of the seance room; of how he bought her gown, and purchased material for a wedding gown which Mrs. Moore was to make and of how, at "Sarah's" suggestion, he made various payments to Mrs. Moore.

"When 'Sarah' said she wanted $7,500 for the wedding gown," Seybold testified, "I asked how she, a spirit, could get it to them. She replied that she would materialize, as she did for me. I drew out $500, and at the next seance, when I saw illuminated hands held out for the money, I put it into those hands."

Spirits Were Near.
The spiritist, Seybold testified, made a lot of noise at these seances. There were a number with whom he became acquainted, he said, including "Dr. Green," a physician, and his son, who was a financial adviser. Once, he said, when he complained of ill health, Mrs. Moore summoned a number of ghostly physicians who prescribed for him. Some of these ghosts were Indians, Seybold said.

Asks Sale of Loop Site
Bought for Police G. H. Q.
An order was presented to the city council yesterday by AM. John Coughlin (D) asking the commissioner of public works to advertise for bids on a piece of property with a 100 foot frontage on Madison street at the river. According to AM. Coughlin, the property was purchased for a new central police station, now being built at State and 11th streets. The property is of no further value to the city, he says, and should be sold.

LEGION SEEKS TO BAR GERMAN AIR LINE IN PANAMA

Canal Zone Men Want U. S. to Run Service.

BY GERALD MARTIN.
(Chicago Tribune Free Service.)
BALBOA, Canal Zone, Nov. 3.—The American Legion men here protest against the proposed German air service through Central America, which is to have its base in the Canal Zone.

William A. Stevenson, past commander of the Panama department, and an aviator during the war, sent a memorandum to the new national commander of the Legion, Edward Spafford of New York, drawing attention to the resolutions passed at the Omaha convention in 1925 urging the United States to link up Central America with the United States, and protesting against a foreign controlled air service being based at the Canal Zone.

Wants to Halt Germans.
Mr. Stevenson urges Commander Spafford to take the matter up with the war department, endeavoring to have the petition of Dr. von Bauer for the Scandia company deferred until American aviation is given another chance to inaugurate a Panama-United States service.

"We held that if Dr. von Bauer is allowed to inaugurate this service between Colombia and Panama, there is nothing to prevent continuing the line through Central America to

6 CEMETERIES REFUSE TO ACCEPT ASHES OF SACCO AND VANZETTI

Boston, Mass., Nov. 3.—[Special.]—Unable to find a resting place, the remaining halves of the ashes of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti repose in their copper cylinders at the home in Malden of Mrs. Rose Sacco, wife of the executed man. Half a dozen cemeteries refused to receive the ashes and there is no immediate prospect of their burial.

Soon after Vanzetti's sister, Livia, returned to her home in Italy with urns containing one-half of the ashes of Aldo Felici, founder of the Vanzetti defense committee and a tireless worker for the interests of the men, made an effort to have the remainder of the ashes interred in a Malden cemetery. He met with opposition from the officials of every cemetery in Malden to which he applied, and his request was flatly refused.

Several other cemeteries were considered, but these, too, would not accept the ashes. Just where they finally will come to rest Felici does not know.

Mexico. Mr. Stevenson writes, "The pending Panama-United States treaty removes the restriction against civilian flying here, meaning that when effective we will be unable longer to stop foreigners from going through."

Seeks American Air Line.

The Legion post here urges Commander Spafford to get behind a scheme to have the United States postal department establish a Central American air route with a view to turning it over eventually to American commercial interests.

Dr. von Bauer is said to have visited Central American presidents, intimating to them that the United States does not object to the Colombian line extending to Mexico. Dr. von Bauer is due in Washington Saturday.

COUNTY FORESTS MATCH THOSE OF KINGS, DAVIS SAYS

Compares Preserves with European Landscapes.

Forests of Europe, jealously guarded through centuries for the exclusive pleasure of nobility, offer no more to their titled owners than the Cook county preserves afford to bricklayers, capitalists, politicians and laborers of Chicago, according to Brig. Gen. Abel Davis.

Gen. Davis, chairman of the citizens' committee on Cook county's forests, has just returned from two months abroad.

"Medieval monarchs used armed force to save priceless strips of sylvan beauty from the encroachments of civilization in Germany and France—and the results today show the price paid was not too high," he said.

Tells of County's Progress.

"Cook county, in this new country which only a few generations ago was a primeval forest, a few years ago foresaw that its growing population would soon be deprived of the wholesome pleasure of contact with nature. So the preserves were created and now we are engaged in a great program of conservation to save a plot where one can forget office and factory for a few hours of communion with birds, flowers, trees and grass shaded by the modern mechanical age."

"Instead of force of arms and brutality to enforce the preservation, Cook county is using an appeal to the intelligence of its public, and the officials are getting the necessary sympathy and cooperation."

Europe Gives Him Ideas.

Modern care of the European forests, some of them four and five hundred years old, taught Gen. Davis a lesson to be applied to Cook county's preserves, he said.

"Nature, growing under handicaps imposed by man, needs man's aid in growing forests," he said. "In Europe tree surgeons and landscape gardeners are constantly at work saving the woods from the wear and tear of visitors and from their natural enemies, insects and decay. All of this cultivating being done without leaving a mark of man's hand on the landscape. We will do the same here."

The immediate job in developing Cook county forests, Gen. Davis said, is the purchase of 4,000 additional acres for the preserve so as to connect all present plots, totaling 31,000 acres, with a strip at no place narrower than 600 feet. The project will cost between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000.

A. H. ACKERMAN, ENGINEER AND INVENTOR, DIES

Albert H. Ackerman, metallurgical engineer, well known in the steel and oil industries, died yesterday at his home, 2855 Leland avenue. He was 53 years old.

Mr. Ackerman was said to have been the first engineer to supervise the making of cold rolled steel. He also was the inventor of a number of processes for making steel, including the putting of coloring into the metal, and invented a number of methods and materials used in refining crude oil. He was founder and head of the Metallurgical Engineering company at 30 West Washington street. He was a Shiner and a member of the Oriental Consistory and all the leading engineering societies of the country.

His widow survives him. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. in the residence. Burial will be in Ancona cemetery.

STOPS CHICAGO PLEA FOR RULING IN BANK RATE CUT

Washington, D. C., Nov. 3.—[Special.]—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon said today that he still is holding up the request of the directors of the Chicago Federal Reserve bank for an opinion by the attorney general as to the legality of the action of the federal reserve board in forcing a reduction in the rediscount rate of the Chicago bank.

While Mr. Mellon was declined to discuss the matter he intimated that the matter was being held in abeyance with consent of the Chicago bankers. Secretary Mellon and members of the federal reserve board desire the Chicago bank rate controversy to be regarded as a closed incident and apparently the request for a new legal opinion may never be pressed.

It was reiterated today that the Chicago bank rate controversy has not come up for discussion during the meeting in progress the week of federal reserve agents and governors of the federal reserve banks with the federal reserve board.

LAMONT RETURNS FROM FINANCIAL STUDY OF JAPAN

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 3.—[Special.]—Thomas W. Lamont, member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. of New York, arrived here today aboard the steamship President Pierce, completing a tour of Japan, where he studied financial conditions.

Remarks that Lamont's trip concerned important loans were dismissed by the banker as too vague to be denied or discussed.

"I am glad to express confidence in underlying conditions in Japan," Lamont said. "Reconstruction is remarkably advanced and highly satisfactory. I can endorse the opinions of leaders in banking and government that the worst is over. Within four years the Japanese have been obliged to confront serious conditions caused by the earthquake and the banking panic. The situation has been met with courage."

Lamont was decorated by the Japanese government with the order of the rising sun and had an audience with the emperor.

SENSOR SPOILS HIS OWN PICTURE OF ROUMANIA

Causes Rumors of Trouble While Land Is Calm.

BY LARRY RUE.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
BUCHAREST, Roumania, Nov. 3.—The Roumanian government, which is not a little proud of its own picture of the country, has been spoiled by the censor's action.

While the rest of the world is being informed via Vienna, Budapest and elsewhere that martial law has been declared, that troops are occupying government buildings, extra guards being placed around the 6 year old Michael and precautionary measures being taken against a revolution, the object of which is to place Crown Prince Carol on the throne, Roumania is continuing with a visible ripple in its humdrum existence.

Demand Free Elections.
What really has happened is merely that the opposition parties have been taking capital of the question of the "regency" of the king and regency. It was Premier Bratiano's government to declare new free elections and return to a "government by the people," instead of what is described as an invisible dictatorship.

The National Peasant party, headed by M. Maniu, is the only party that has refused to cooperate with Premier Bratiano's government. It has protested open-ly against the illegality of the present regime, including the boy king and the regency. The Bratiano is not Crown Prince Carol, but the Bratiano regime.

Peasants Gird for Action.
Ever since the elections, shortly before the death of King Ferdinand, the National Peasant party, instead of including an ear to the overtures of M. Bratiano, has been preparing for action. The party's congress has been scheduled for Nov. 21 at Alba-Iulia. The possibility that the congress might produce riots and otherwise embarrass the government, with irresponsible elements stampeding for Prince Carol, has worried M. Bratiano, and the cabinet is seeking any excuse by which the congress could be prohibited.

The arrest of M. Manolescu, former cabinet secretary, while carrying documents from Prince Carol gave the opposition parties an opportunity to protest against the illegal procedure of Premier Bratiano.

It is generally believed Queen Marie and M. Bratiano are less friendly than heretofore. The queen confided to friends at her coronation that she hoped to be emperor, and when this honor was denied her, those in intimate court circles say the failure to be chosen a regent was a great blow to her pride and prestige.

Statement on Carol Plot.

BUCHAREST, Roumania, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The Roumanian government today issued a statement bearing on the alleged Carolist plot, together with letters and documents seized recently when M. Manolescu, former under-secretary of finance, was arrested as the "go-between" for former Crown Prince Carol.

Documents as made public by the government show that M. Manolescu began his activities in favor of Carol on July 15, two days before the death of King Ferdinand. That day he wrote in his diary, "From all the declarations Carol made to me in the course of the eight days I saw him the prince's attitude is clear—he wishes to return, if possible, before Mihai (Michael) becomes king."

The government says M. Manolescu and his adherents intended to begin execution of his conspiracy to restore Carol this autumn.

The government withholds the text of Carol's letters to four political chiefs, which are believed to embody his conditions for returning to Roumania, including his request for a plebiscite.

Denies Intervention Petition in Transit Lines Foreclosure

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson yesterday denied a petition for intervention recently filed on behalf of Orville E. Babcock and others owning several million dollars worth of participation certificates, in connection with federal foreclosure proceedings against the Chicago Railway company, operators of the north and northwest lines of the street car system. Judge Wilkerson ruled that the certificate holders are not stockholders and have no other methods of redress.

CHARGE LAWYERS TRIED TO BRIBE JOLIET CONVICT

Attorneys John F. McGinnis of Alton, Ill., and Joseph McGlynn of East St. Louis were named in affidavits filed yesterday in the United States District Court of Appeals by United States District Attorney Walter M. Province of Springfield as having offered George Sturm, convict at Joliet penitentiary, the sum of $1,500 to repudiate his testimony against seven men under sentences of fifteen years each in connection with the $70,000 robbery of the Alton, Ill., postoffice.

One affidavit was signed by Sturm and charges the bribe offer was made at the Joliet penitentiary following his appearance as the chief government witness in the trial of those seven men.

Two other affidavits to the same effect as Sturm's, were made by Oscar L. Colard, St. Louis, Mo., detective sergeant, and Postmaster Paul B.

Cousley of Alton, Ill. These affidavits also were filed.

The affidavits were introduced in connection with the appeal of the seven men whose case was brought before the United States Court of Appeals. The case was taken under advisement and a decision is expected today.

Office Fights Bandits with Inkwell, but Loses $2,000

Three robbers entered the tailoring establishment of H. A. Elman at 3360 West 23d street yesterday morning and compelled thirteen employees, of whom six were women, to stand with upraised hands while they took a $2,000 payroll from Hyman Elman, the president, and John Benes, a foreman. As the bandit trio left they were followed by a shower of inkwells and books tossed at them by the employees. Despite this attack they reached an automobile at the curb and escaped.

ARREST CUDAHY BOY'S KIDNAPER AS 'PANHANDLER'

New York, Nov. 3.—(Special.)—Detectives walking along in the rain through the bovery this morning came upon a grizzled, emaciated man hunched on the steps of the "L" station at Houston street.

He was soaked through with the rain, but his head was bared for his battered hat was stretched out for him.

The detectives took him to the nearest station, and his clothes dried, the old man's tongue loosened.

"I'm Fat Crow," he said, and seemed relieved when they showed no recollection of the name.

"Don't you remember?" he demanded. "Jim Callahan and me kidnaped young Eddie Cudahy—him that's Edward A. Cudahy, president of the big packing factory—35 years ago, and his folks paid us $25,000 in gold—gold, mind you—to get him back."

Stop Tri-Chor-Rhex-Is!

(Dry Rot)
If you value good appearance and want beautiful hair!

DOCTORS may have told you that new germs and new diseases march hand in hand with civilization. Changing modes require new precautions. Just so, the new-day emphasis of hair brings a host of new-day problems.

The heat of permanent waving or of the curling iron bakes out natural oils of the hair. Roots are starved and growth is stunted. In the quest for a smart coiffure, greases, waxes, gums, quince or flax seed often are used for dressing. They clog the follicles, choke the roots, cover the scalp with a dangerous coating. Healthy hair-life ceases. . . Tri-chor-rhex-is (dry rot) begins. . . dandruff forms and the hair loses every trace of beauty.

Flakes first flash the danger signal. Heed it . . . meet the new condition in a very simple way. Use a modern product, one that is infinitely more than its name implies. When you comb your hair or dress it, spray on Marcelle Brilliantine. Greaseless . . . absolutely pure . . . it is more than a brilliantine. Its rare oils penetrate the hair follicles and feed them. The scalp becomes soft and healthy. Tri-chor-rhex-is (dry rot) can not make or keep a foothold. Beautiful hair is sure to follow.

Marcelle Brilliantine comes to you in an original atomizer-top package. And refills can be purchased to use again and again with this atomizer-top—or pour the contents of a refill bottle into your own atomizer.

Cut by flying glass

IT WASN'T much of a crash. Both cars were going slowly when they met—but the windshield shattered and there was a shower of flying glass, razor-edged, needle-sharp pieces . . .

Sixty-five per cent of all injuries in automobile accidents are due to flying glass: painful cuts, perhaps permanent disfigurement, blindness, or even worse. Ordinary glass shatters so easily. You are never safe from the greatest of motoring perils, flying glass, when you drive behind ordinary glass.

Don't drive behind ordinary glass
DON'T TAKE THIS FRIGHTFUL RISK

TESTS have shown that an ordinary plate glass windshield will fly into pieces under an impact that will not even crack TripLEX. Of course, in an accident, TripLEX may crack, but it will not shatter, so cannot fly and cut. You are safe from flying glass when you drive behind TripLEX.

TripLEX is a clear glass—there are no wires in it to confuse and obscure the vision.

CHINESE BLOCK U. S. EXCLUSION IN PHILIPPINES

Legislators Reject Bill to Oust Orientals.

BY WALTER WILGUS.
Special Tribune Staff Writer.

MANILA, P. I., Nov. 3. — Lingoh, Chinese consul general at Manila, blocked the recent move of the Philippine senate to check the flood of illegal immigration into the country.

The American Chinese exclusion law, which has been in effect since 1904, provides that Chinese who enter the country must do so by purchasing forged papers.

Legislators are now considering a bill to amend the law, but the Chinese consul general has refused to cooperate with the move.

QUEZON STATES VIEW ON NEEDS OF ISLAND POST

Washington, D. C., Nov. 3.—[Special.]—Appointment of a governor general of the Philippines, with whom the Philippine government can cooperate, was urged upon President Coolidge today by Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippine senate, during an hour's conference at the White House.

No particular candidate was recommended by Mr. Quezon for appointment to the vacancy made by the death of Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood.

It is understood that President Quezon has certain preferences for the post but does not intend to press them at this time.

Indications are that the appointment will not be announced by the President until late this month.

President Coolidge is understood to have secured Quezon of his desire for close teamwork between the federal government and the native government of the islands.

OLSON ASSIGNS CITY JUDGES TO VARIOUS DUTIES

New assignments of judges of the Municipal court were announced yesterday by Chief Justice Harry Olson. The shift in positions, which moves thirteen of the thirty-seven judges, goes into effect next Monday, Nov. 7. Judges who will occupy different benches and their new assignments are:

Small claims, Samuel Heller; domestic relations, Edgar A. Jones; morals, Joseph L. McCarthy; bonds, Freeman L. Fairbank; jury cases, Arnold Heap and Joseph W. Schulman; vagrancy, Harry Hamlin; Maxwell and Fillmore streets, Theodore F. Ehler; South Clark street, William Helander; Town Hall and East Chicago avenues, Matthew D. Hartigan; Wabash avenue, John F. Haas; South Chicago, Philip J. Finnegan.

All other judges will remain in their present positions. Judge John Scharbar and William R. Foster are unassigned.

NEWSPAPER BEST MEDIUM FOR ADS. EXECUTIVE SAYS

The daily newspaper is the best and most profitable advertising medium, there is J. C. McQuiston, advertising manager of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, yesterday told the advertising council of the Chicago Association of Commerce at a meeting in the Hotel La Salle, listing nine basic reasons to prove his point. He added that the Westinghouse company, after a thorough survey, had found newspaper advertising as profitable as that it had put all its general advertising funds for the current fiscal year into newspaper space.

The nine points he listed were: intimacy, flexibility, cooperative tie in advertising, reader interest, instant action, telling the story, localizing and nationalizing of advertising, easy to check results, and full sales support.

Mr. McQuiston is a veteran in the advertising field. He has been associated with the advertising department of the Westinghouse company for more than thirty years.

Ernest McGroucher, who hadn't missed the 7:43 in five years, spoils his record by insisting on two more Pillsbury's pancakes.

Any man would agree that catching a train is far less important than two more Pillsbury's pancakes. You'll find that men like them even better than the old-fashioned kind—they're light, tender, delicious, easy to digest. And they're easier to make—simply add water or milk to Pillsbury's Pancake Flour and bake—in a few minutes you'll have the finest pancakes you've ever tasted!

Safeguarding a Schoolgirl's Complexion

By VILMA BANKY

Only ONE soap is safe for your face—a TRUE complexion soap

USE powder and make-up all you wish. But if you seek a good complexion, never leave them on over night. For the first rule in modern skin care is to keep the skin clean, pores frequently freed of accumulations.

That means soap and water—regularly. But if you seek a TRUE COMPLEXION soap only. A soap MADE for skin use—to protect and beautify.

Thus, largely on expert advice, millions use Palmolive Soap; touch their faces with no other. It is made of cosmetic oils. It is for one purpose only—to protect and beautify the skin.

Wash the face gently with Palmolive. Massage its balmy olive and palm oil lather into the skin. Rinse with warm water; then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be naturally dry, apply a little good cold cream. That is all—it's nature's rule for keeping that schoolgirl's complexion.

Do that regularly, and particularly at night. Note then how much better your skin in even one week. Get Palmolive today. Costs but 10c the cake. Use no other on your face. But be sure you get GENUINE Palmolive. Crude imitations, represented to be of olive and palm oils, are not the same as Palmolive. Remember that and TAKE CARE. The Palmolive-Pet Co., Chicago, U. S. A. ## Illinois Leaves for Iowa Battle in Fighting Trim

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 3.—[Special.]—Two thousand students, shouting encouragement and best wishes, gave the University of Illinois football squad of 34 players an enthusiastic send-off this evening as they embarked for Cedar Rapids, Ia., where they rest Friday before moving on to Iowa City, where they play Iowa Saturday.

A final checkup showed the entire team is in good shape. Timm, Delmaling and Capt. Bob Reitsch, who have been working only part time in practice this week, are eager for action. Practice today was devoted to forward passes and the punters and goal kickers were given a good workout against the stiff wind that swept the playing field. Coach Bob Zuppke took along only three complete back fields, Nickol, Windespe, Aldous and Hickman comprising the third set.

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 3.—[Special.]—University of Iowa's football regulars held a long dummy scrimmage today against the frosh.

AT IOWA
who used Illinois defensive and offensive plays. Attention was also given to punting, in which department the Hawks are expected to outclass Illinois in its homecoming game here Saturday. Arroll Cooley and Glasgow have been getting close to a 40 yard average. Arroll will handle the opening assignment against Illinois. The Iowans are expected to line up as follows Saturday: Capt. Nelson and Schleusner, tackles; Grimm and Cuhel, ends; Roberts and Yegre, guards; Brown, center; Pignatelli, Hagerty, Glasgow and Hickman in the back field.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 3.—[Special.]—With Leon Hutton, end; Burt Dreyer, center, and Sigmond Greisus, guard, definitely out of Saturday's game on orders of the athletic physician, Purdue eased up its drill for Northwestern's home coming game in tonight's practice. Punting and dummy scrimmage were all that Coach Phelan directed during the afternoon, fearful that more of his regulars would be added to the hospital list.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 3.—[Special.]—Indiana today wound up its drill for the Michigan State game here Saturday. AT INDIANA
Coach Pat Page had three varsity squads going at top speed. Ends continue a problem, but Page hopes to start Baker, with Hiler as another wing probability. Faunce, injured in last week's game with Harvard, will be unable to play in the back field. Two new faces which may appear in the Hoosier lineup Saturday are Bundy, tackle, and Trobaugh, guard. Indiana will concentrate its defensive work on Paul Smith, Michi-

Cool Weather Enlivens Duck, Goose Hunting

BY BOB BECKER

Thousands of ducks and geese scattered throughout the middle west were stirred to action this week as a result of the light snow which fell in the north central states, and the resulting change in weather conditions in the entire Mississippi region, all of which has helped the hunting situation considerably. When high temperatures prevail, when the sun is hot and the winds are in the south and southwest, it is no time to go hunting as many duck hunters have learned during the last few weeks. We tried this kind of shooting last week. Although birds were numerous, they did not fly much. On the contrary the well fed mallards and pintails spent most of the day enjoying slates in the warm sun while the hunters fished in the bluffs with nothing to do but hope for action. Up to five days ago but a comparatively small number of geese had arrived on the big marshes along the Mississippi in the vicinity of Cairo, a famous goose hunting territory. With weather so pleasant the big bonkers were taking it easy in the cornfields to the north. However, we have a hunch that the recent shakedown in the weather has sent thousands of birds down the valley and we're waiting for a telegram to arrive to confirm this fact. So the tip is now, prepare for your slinging fowls from this weekend on as there are bound to be birds and weather to produce A-1 sport.

Pigskin—a rugged leather for a rugged personality

You do not have to be a woodsman or a lineman to approve of these Fownes Gloves of pigskin, though they are stout enough even for that. . . . Their smart cut, their sturdy stitching and finish make them popular in town as well as country. You will grow fonder of them as long as you own them—a long time, indeed. And (hint to economical dressers) pigskin washes perfectly. Ask for Fownes Gloves at your favorite shop. Priced at $5. Other Fownes styles, $3 to $12.

The basic problem is largely that of assembling the capital with which to form these electric service systems. It has been the accomplishment of the Middle West Utilities Company and other public utility investment companies to finance and direct the formation of such widespread systems to replace inadequate local plants in small communities and to bring electric service for the first time to rural sections. In this expansion of electric service facilities, power supply is made as widespread as the uses for which it is required. As rural electrification progresses, the farmers are to an ever mounting degree receiving their share in increased efficiency. Power seeks out the user, wherever he may be within any established economic area. Farms, as a result, are rapidly gaining the status of industry in their power supply and of the city home in their domestic comfort.

SYNOPSIS
A New York gambler, known as Goldfish, who is a scoundrel, is often in the courtroom of Judge Robert Craig, who is a scoundrel. Goldfish denies the charges, turns the tables by revealing he has the judge in his power, and dismisses them with the ultimatum—they are to be always at his disposal.

Following Monday Judge Craig does not appear for the opening of a famous case. His brother, Bruce, known as the prodigy judge, bitterly resents a detention that may be a woman in the case, even when it is hinted she may be a scoundrel. Bruce returns to the office and Mary Allen disappears. He is a husband or brother for a harsh sentence, since the elder Craig has never been in with mercy.

When Bruce knew in college as the Goldfish, a student of psychology, that a woman power over men and tricks of mind reader, begins work on the mind of the scoundrel body of Robert Craig in a suburban cottage, the tenant of the house in order to study the character of the suspected missing agency, Deacons & Co., 23 South LaSalle St., Chicago, Telephone for appointment Central 9133.

Goldfish let some of the water drip on Bruce's white face. The eyes of the scoundrel came up on the run.

"You're an ambulance!" he exclaimed at sight of Bruce.

"You're already telephoned for Dr. Braddish," the Goldfish said dejectedly. "He is the best man in New York for this emergency."

"You're coming at once?" a policeman asked.

"The man who had telephoned called out. 'Yes.'"

GASOLINE ALLEY—CODA'S ATTORNEY PLEADS THE COLONEL'S CASE

JUDGE MOULDER, ATTORNEY FOR COL. CODA IN THE CASE OF SKEEZY, DEFENDING THE DECISION OF THE CIRCUIT COURT WHICH WAS TRYING TO HAVE REVERSED, CLAIMS THAT HEREIN IS THE ONE INFALLIBLE GUIDE IN ALL SUCH CASES. HE ADMITS THAT EXPEDIENTY OFTEN MAKES NECESSARY TEMPORARY ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE CARE OF CHILDREN BUT THAT ALL RIGHTS GROWING OUT OF SUCH ARE UNLESS TEMPORARY. *** UNLESS THEY WERE COMPELLED TO LAND ON A REMOTE BEACH OR WERE PICKED UP BY A CHANCE VESSEL, COL. CODA AND HIS WIFE, WESTWARD BOUND OVER THE ATLANTIC, HAVE BEEN GIVEN UP AS LOST.

IF THE COURT PLEASE, THE SITUATION IN THIS CASE IS UNIQUE. IN HANDING DOWN HIS DECISION JUDGE SLY SAID: "THE APPARENT LACK OF INTEREST ON THE PART OF THE FATHER, COL. HENRI CODA, IS JUSTIFIED ON THE GROUND THAT HE WAS UNAWARE OF THE EXISTENCE OF SKEEZY UNTIL MONTHS AFTER HIS BIRTH." THIS AND THE FACT THAT A THOUSAND MILES OF LAND AND THREE THOUSAND MILES OF SEA SEPARATED THEM FOR SIX YEARS IS REASON ENOUGH THAT THERE HAD BEEN NO INTIMATE PERSONAL RELATIONSHIP.

HOWEVER, NO JUSTIFICATION IS NEEDED. BLOOD HAS ALWAYS BEEN THICKER THAN WATER AND ALWAYS WILL BE. A FATHER'S RIGHT TO HIS CHILD, REGARDLESS OF OTHER SENTIMENTAL RELATIONSHIPS, IS UNQUESTIONED. PET THEORIES AND COLSHEVYK DOCTRINES TO THE CONTRARY NOTWITHSTANDING. THE DECISION OF THE LOWER COURT IS SOUND, JUST AND SHOULD BE SUSTAINED.

Russian Conductor Makes Audience Tingle.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

The Boston Symphony orchestra came to Orchestra hall last night for its first Chicago visit in fifteen years, bringing a conductor, Serge Koussevitzky, for his first Chicago visit in his life. It is a great organization, one of the four best in this country, and Mr. Koussevitzky is distinctly a personality in music.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

"La Traviata" with Claudia Muzio, Tito Schipa, and Richard Bonelli, and Giorgio Polacco on the conductor's stand. So began the new season of opera at the Auditorium last night. Getting into the opera on an opening night is quite a ceremonial operation. You approach the Auditorium amid glare and boom, through the batteries of photographers who are engaged, and quite unerringly at that, upon the matter of picking out the colonel's lady from the Gold Coast and omitting Judy O'Grady who lives some where else. You finally reach the lobby, which is pervaded by a mingled and not unpleasant odor of flashlight powder smoke, perfumes, and moth balls. Then you find that because of radio operations due to take place, the performance will begin ten minutes late.

Stove Is Needed.

"I am the father of a family and although I am working I cannot afford a steam heated flat. We have no stove for the winter and will need one to keep the baby warm. Do you think one of your readers will have a heating stove to give us?" H. C."

It's time to think about and plan protection against the coming cold weather as H. C. is doing. Have you the stove which is going to keep his little family comfortable this winter?
